

SRA TRANSPARENCY RULES

(Purchase)

Fact Sheet on Purchase of a freehold residential property

1. What are our charges

Our fees cover all of the work required to complete the purchase of your new home, including dealing with registration at the Land Registry and dealing with the payment of Stamp Duty Land Tax (Stamp Duty) if the property is in England, or Land Transaction Tax (Land Tax) if the property you wish to buy is in Wales.

Our fees (also known as profit costs) are normally calculated as a percentage of the purchase price in a range of between 0.25% and 0.5% with a minimum fee of £600 plus VAT. In addition, we make a charge of £30 plus VAT for each electronic money transfer we make in the transaction.

The eventual charge which we make will depend on a number of factors including the following: -

- Whether or not this is a chain transaction i.e. where your seller and/or buyer also wishes to move home at the same time.
- Whether or not your lender uses its own solicitor on the case. If we act for the lender as well, our extra costs are likely to be in the region of between 0.05% and 0.1% of the loan amount. If the lender uses its own solicitor, then we will advise you of that solicitor's charge once we have that information.
- Whether or not any unforeseen matters arise in the transaction such as defects in title where we will need to prepare additional documents alongside those of the main transaction.
- Whether or not the matter takes long in time with unforeseen complications arising.
- Whether or not all parties to the transaction are co-operative and there are no unreasonable delays from third parties providing documentation.
- Whether or not any legal indemnity policies are required.

In addition to our fees, we also have to charge you for disbursements (being costs related to your matter that are payable to third parties) such as the costs of the searches, Stamp Duty Land Tax (in England) or Land Tax (in Wales) as well as Land Registry fees.

The costs for searches are normally around £250 per transaction although they may sometimes be more or less.

The amount of Stamp Duty Land Tax or Land Tax which you pay will depend upon the purchase price of your property. You can calculate the amount which you need to pay using the HMRC's website: www.gov.uk/stamp-duty-land-tax or for properties located in Wales by using the Welch Revenue Authority's website: www.gov.wales/land-transaction-tax-calculator.

The amount of Land Registry fees which you pay will also depend upon the purchase price of your property. You can calculate the amount which you need by visiting the Land Registry website: www.landregistry.gov.uk

At the end of this note we will be providing for illustration purposes only an explanation of what you might expect to pay on a £300,000 purchase.

If you would like a full case specific estimate, please contact one of our conveyancing lawyers who will be able to provide you with the same.

2. How long will my house purchase take?

How long it will take from your offer being accepted until you can move in to your house will depend on a number of factors. The average process takes between 2-3 months.

It can be quicker or slower, depending on the parties in the chain. For example, if you are a first time buyer, purchasing a new build property with a mortgage in principle, it could take 6-8 weeks. However, if you are buying a property in a chain and therefore relying on other parties in the chain to be ready at the same time, it could take even longer than 3 months to reach completion. In such a situation, additional charges would apply.

3. What are the main stages of the conveyancing process?

The precise stages involved in the purchase of a residential property vary according to the circumstances. However, the key stages will normally be as follows: -
